

Greg Cooks

“Puntin”

Greg Cooks, mononymously known is an American Hip Hop artist, entrepreneur, and record producer. He is the president, and founder of the independent record label Puntanious Entertainment, and has recently deemed as the coordinator of the GMWA Alliance Hip-Hop Component.

Greg debuted with Rap'n Rev in 2007 through Worldwide Impact Records. He began garnering national attention when he performed at the 2011 BET Music Matters Showcase in LA, California. On December, 14, 2011, Greg released his first mixtape, Champion, which pushed over 5,000 units on hotnewhiphop.com, and over 3,500 units on datpiff.

Considering his buzz from Champion, Greg released the 1st installment to his mixtape series, Bananas 1, December 30, 2012, the mixtape was downloaded of 7,000 times, and streamed over times on datpiff. The last three albums to the installment were downloaded over 30,000 times and became an internet hit. His independent album release, back to the Basics, came out on April, 22, 2014, and it became his first Hip-Hop album to chart on the iTunes Hip-Hop/Rap charts. The album became a best seller on Amazon.com.

Greg has performed on the same stages as Ludacris, Juvenile, Mystical, Paul Wall, Chamillionaire, and Lil Flip. He has toured overseas in England, New Zealand, and across the U.S. His mission is to touch lives through his musical gift, and prove that there can be great rap music without profanity, or glorifying violence.

Greg has gained fans and supporters worldwide from performing, and utilizing social media to stay connected with them. His uniqueness, hard work, dedication, and humble spirit make him a fan favorite.